Subject: Liquid Meth

For people working interdiction. This is coming into the country around Laredo, TX. It is being distributed from around San Antonio, TX. It has shown up in Tennessee and Kentucky. Each bottle, when boiled down, will produce 1 lb. of crystal meth. Usually located in suit cases with miscellaneous clothes. When shaken, microscopic bubbles will float to the top. It is slightly thicker than normal alcohol. Seals may be cut and glued or not broken at all. Will test very strongly by NIK or similar field test.
