Stalking is a crime of repeated victimization. With the majority of stalking victims receiving unwanted cell phone calls, text messages and/or being tracked via GPS, officers need to expand their investigative skills into cyber-space. This two (2) day course combines basic stalking investigation, with the “how-to” of forensically retrieving stalking-related digital evidence.

Topics Covered...

- Understanding the forms of domestic violence and stalking
- Recognizing the characteristics of the stalking offender
- Developing a sound stalking case
- Stalkers and Facebook
- Identifying and retrieving digital evidence
- State and Federal stalking laws
- AND MORE...

To receive maximum benefit from this training, it is recommended that students bring a laptop computer with wireless capabilities that will allow the installation of a variety of “take-home” hardware, software and utilities.
