

Opens Source Intelligence & Internet Investigations

August 12-14, 2013 8:00 to 5:00

Generating timely actionable intelligence from the internet

This comprehensive training course will teach you how to conduct more-effective online investigations.

The Private Intelligence Corporation has developed a three-day course to be presented at the Bonner County Sheriff's office.

A three-day course in Sandpoint, Idaho

The Internet has the information you need, but you need to know where to look. This comprehensive training program will show you how the Internet works and how to gain insight, establish criminal predicate and secure electronic evidence. You will learn advanced techniques to mine data using a wide variety of search tools and how to uncover hidden information from websites, blogs, social media and other sources online. This course will also increase your awareness of security and privacy issues and will emphasize the best officer safety practices.

This highly practical and interactive course is led by David Hale, Executive Director of the Private Intelligence Corporation (www.PrivateIntelligence.us) a leading expert with extensive experience in this field.

Course Topic

- The most powerful online search techniques
- Deconstructing Web Pages for intelligence
- Officer Safety – Working Undercover Online
- The “Deep Web” - Public Directories and Databases
- Multimedia Search Tools and Techniques
- Crowd-sourcing and the Real Time Internet Monitoring
- Online Intelligence Opportunities and Threats
- Maintaining Security and Protecting Privacy
- Officer Safety – Working Undercover Online
- Locating and Linking People, Places and Things
- Discover Locations of Websites and Users
- Capturing, Organizing and Storing Web Based Evidence
- Automated Mapping and Monitoring of Websites
- Forum, Discussion Board and Newsgroup Search
- Investigating Blogs, Wikis and Social Networks
- The “Dark Web” Contraband in Online Marketplaces
- Understand how to leverage images, video and other multimedia

Attendees are encouraged to bring a laptop computer & will receive a flash drive with a comprehensive collection of training materials, industry contacts and intelligence templates. The cost is $300.

For registration, please contact Beth at the Bonner County Sheriff's Office at (208) 263-8417 ext 3075 or Bdunlap@bonnerso.org